

DEBORRAH ASHLEY

ADVISER, WOMEN OF INFLUENCE

Deborrah Ashley, founder of Thrivoo Marketing, left a 20 year corporate career at the age of 46 to follow her calling of helping accomplished professionals, those who are typically unheard and overlooked in their industry, go from being the best kept secret in their industry to being highly sought after for lucrative opportunities.

Considered a game changer, people connector, and industry innovator, Deborrah helps her clients all around the world through the entire process of getting sought out as a women of influence who will open doors and effect change.

She struggled close to a year before figuring out how to package and monetize her decades of experience in the online space.

Within 8 months, she went from having ZERO social media presence to being listed as a top social media influencer.

To date, Deborrah has built 3 highly profitable businesses, one featured in Oprah Magazine and The New York Times, and she has helped over 100 professionals build awareness around their personal brand!

TALKING POINTS

- Starting over at age 46
- How To Use LinkedIn To Amplify Your Professional Influence
- The One Thing Most Forget To Do Before Growing Their Personal Brand
- How To Leverage Your "IT" Factor To Get Sought Out For Lucrative Opportunities
- Multicultural Women Of Influence: Getting Your Ideas Heard Even If You're Fairly Unknown

Featured In

/leverageyouritfactor

/leverageyouritfactor

@thrivoo

@thrivoo